Saint Anne’s Healing Symposium

Monday, November 14, 2016 at 7:00PM in the Church

May All We Do Today, Be for the Healing of the Whole

What kind of world do we want to leave to those who come after us?

Why are we here?

What is the goal of our work and of all our efforts?

What need does Earth have of us?

Margaret Mayce is a member of the Sisters of St. Dominic, Congregation of the Holy Cross, Amityville, New York. She is currently the Representative of the Non-Governmental Organization, Dominican Leadership Conference, at the United Nations, New York. In this capacity, she works in conjunction with Dominican Friar Mike Deeb, OP, who represents the Order at the United Nations in Geneva.

Margaret served as Chair of the NGO Committee for Social Development from 2012-2016, and is engaged in a wide range of issues, including poverty eradications; sustainable development and climate change; the plight of women and girls worldwide; and financing for sustainable development. She brings the rich Dominican tradition of advocacy on behalf of human rights to all that she does.

Margaret holds a B.A. in Sociology from Molloy College, Rockville Centre, NY; a Masters in International Political Economic Development from Fordham University, Bronx, NY; a Certificate in Pastoral Spanish from the Mexican American Cultural Center, San Antonio, Texas; and a Certificate in Preaching from Aquinas Institute of Theology, St. Louis, Missouri.
Dear Parishioners,

For more than three years now, we have been sponsoring a Healing Symposium at the parish. We have heard from eight guest presentations that have included Passionists, Jesuits, and Vincentians. We have heard from authors, editors, and biblical professors. Many have spoken from personal experience of healing; others have given a more theological perspective. This Monday, November 14 we will have our concluding presentation from Sr. Margaret Mayce, O.P., a Sister of St. Dominic, Amityville. Sr. Margaret is representative of the Dominican Leadership Conference to the United Nations. Sr. Margaret has wide experience and her presentation will be a very contemporary one. She will include in her presentation an appreciation for Pope Francis’ 2015 encyclical Laudato Si, On Care for Our Common Home. In the opening pages of this teaching document Pope Francis writes, “I urgently appeal, then, for a new dialogue about how we are shaping the future of our planet. We need a conversation which includes everyone, since the environmental challenge we are undergoing, and its human roots, concern and affect us all.” Monday night’s presentation from Sr. Margaret will help St. Anne’s be a more informed participant in this dialogue and conversation that is of deep concern to the Church and the entire global community.

THANKSGIVING

Thanksgiving is fast approaching, here in less than two weeks. We have a beautiful Thanksgiving Day morning Mass at 9:00AM. See if you cannot put aside that hour on Thanksgiving morning to attend the parish Mass. The celebration will only add to your spirit of gratitude and joy on this important day of family and friends.

PRIESTHOOD

Last week in this space, I began writing about vocations in the spirit of a week of prayer for vocations. We realize the many vocations in the Church and I was able to reflect briefly about the vocation of the single person, the Sacrament of Marriage, parenthood, and the vocation to religious and consecrated life as lived by religious sisters, brothers, and priests of religious orders. I indicated last week I would reflect this week about the vocation to parish priesthood.

I spent six years from 1996-2002 as Vocation Director for our diocese. I had the opportunity to work in this ministry under the leadership of three bishops, Bishops McGann, McHugh, and Murphy. It was a time for me of great experience and learning. I met dozens and dozens of young persons who were discerning how God was calling them to serve. It was both rewarding and frustrating. Rewarding to see a young person begin the journey as a college student and then rejoice with him at his Ordination some years later. One of them, Fr. Ketcham then served with me as a newly ordained at Holy Name of Mary. Frustrating, as a young person would seem energetic and excited about entering formation but then suddenly have a change of heart that was difficult to understand. I enjoyed the ministry and those years allowed me to deepen my appreciation for the meaning of a vocation to the priesthood.

Of course, as is the case with all vocations, the beginning of a vocation to the priesthood begins with a stirring of the heart, a movement of one’s spirit, an inkling of the whole person to imagine and wonder about a call to serve God as a priest. Many faith-filled persons who went on to be great husbands and dads may have had that experience as a young man. The idea of being a priest has crossed the holy imagination of many persons.

So how does it happen that the initial spark, the first ambition, the early desire transforms into a pursuit of a priestly vocation? Of course, it is grace, the presence of the divine, many will call it God calling. I have always felt that an authentic vocation includes both the presence of God and the human desire and will. If the seed of a vocation is present, yes God has placed it there, for all vocations. God calls to marriage, to parenthood, to religious life, to priesthood. And yes, the call is different, feels different, and is lived differently.

One of the difficulties in the call to priesthood is its difference. To live a life of celibacy in this culture is a great challenge. To live a life defined by service in Church ministry can seem limiting to some. To choose a life where the demands are personal can appear risky. So how important that when a young man feels the inkling, the desire, the ambition, the call to priesthood, he finds support for his discernment.

God was surely present in my vocational discernments in my life, first as I discerned a call to religious life, and then many years later to parish priesthood. God graced me with a supportive family who always were at my side even if they did not fully understand. I have shared with you my difficult relationship with my dad because of his alcoholism. He always supported my vocation. The person who enjoyed my priesthood even more than I, was my mom. A supportive family is such a helpful element of a priestly vocation.

St. Thomas the Apostle, my home parish and elementary school, and Chaminade where I attended high school were sources of great strength and encouragement. We lived 10 houses away from the Church, rectory, and convent. We attended Mass every Sunday; we knew the parish priests; St. Thomas was very much part of my family and remains so. The brothers and priests at Chaminade were very helpful to me in all sorts of ways and through them I came to know about a vocation and how meaningful a life of service in the Church can be.

Again, as last week, space is running short. We have many young persons, male and female, who are filled with faith, eager to serve, active in their parish, close to God and who could serve happily, generously, and well in our Church as single persons, spouses, parents, religious, and priests. We cannot be afraid to invite them, encourage them, and welcome them. They are present at Mass every Sunday. They are catechists, involved in youth ministry, CYO athletics and alumni, neighbors, volunteers, and good kids. Some may need encouragement to priesthood so that someday they may say with your pastor, “I love being a priest.”

Please try to be with us on Monday night at 7:00PM.

Resilience ... You are not alone

Next Meeting - Thursday, Dec. 1st at 7:30PM

Research shows that many parents don’t discuss concerns about their children’s mental health with anyone due to fear of the stigma that is often attached. Just when parents are vulnerable and in need of support, they tend to withdraw. If you have a son or daughter who is experiencing psychological or emotional challenges, do you hesitate to speak with trusted friends or relatives because of the concern that at best they would not understand or perhaps they would be critical or judgmental? As a result, do you often feel isolated, as if you are alone in dealing with this issue? Do you wonder at times where God is in the midst of your child’s struggles?

Saint Anne’s has formed a group to support parents of teens and young adults who are experiencing challenges, either psychological, emotional or both. Our group is called Resilience. We respect the confidentiality of each person and offer a safe environment to meet with other parents who are facing similar challenges. You are not alone! Our next meeting will take place on Thursday, December 1st at 7:30PM in the St. John Vianney Room in the rectory.

For more information, please contact Linda Leone at lindaleone@stannesgc.org or 516-352-5904.

LITURGY AND WORSHIP

Thirty-third Sunday in Ordinary Time

“By your perseverance you will secure your lives.”

In the beginning, all things came to be and they were good. At the end of time all creation as we know it will cease to be. But it will not return to a dark void for those who have been faithful. They will be enfolded into a loving God. Today’s gospel is filled with a terrifying view of the last things. But Jesus assures us that “not a hair on your head will be destroyed.” We have only each day to live out the lives that Jesus calls us to live. The good that we do affects all that is. This is how we are to watch and wait, by a grace-filled living now! When we come together to celebrate the Eucharist each Sunday we are given a foretaste of the time to come – union with our loving God.

Venerable Henriette DeLille (1813-1862)

It was during the time of legalized slavery in the United States that Venerable Henriette DeLille was born in New Orleans. Her parents were an interracial couple – her father was white and her mother was a “free woman of color.” She was afforded many educational opportunities. Her parents wanted her to marry a wealthy man but Henriette felt called to religious life. She was turned down by the Ursulines and the Carmelites. She then taught in a local Catholic school. When she inherited her family fortune she used it to found the Sisters of the Holy Family. Together the sisters provided nursing care for the elderly, safety for orphans, and education for the poor. Henriette remained committed to the compassionate service of the marginalized. She died on November 17, 1862. The Sisters of the Holy Family continue her compassionate work in the United States, Belize, Central America, and Nigeria. Her cause for beatification is still pending.

I believe in God, I hope in God. I love. I want to live and die for God.
(Ven. Henrietta DeLille’s prayer)

CATHOLIC CAMPAIGN FOR HUMAN DEVELOPMENT AND HOME MISSIONS COLLECTION

Next week, we will take up the Collection for the Catholic Campaign for Human Development which includes Home Missions (CCHD). CCHD was founded 40 years ago by the bishops of the United States when they realized that the lives of those in need would not improve until the systems and policies that keep people in poverty were changed. For 40 years, CCHD has funded community groups that seek justice and create lasting change. Fight poverty in America. Defend human dignity. Give to the CCHD Collection.

We welcome those newly baptized into our faith community
