Easter Thoughts from the Gospel
The daily Lenten thoughts were very well received by parishioners, so we will continue to send and print thoughts based on the day’s gospel through the Easter season.

Sunday, April 8—This Sunday, we celebrate the Feast of the Divine Mercy. It is because of his mercy that we have forgiveness of sin and new life as children of God.

The daily Lenten thoughts were very well received by parishioners, so we will continue to send and print thoughts based on the day’s gospel through the Easter season. Monday, April 9
Today we hear God speaking to Mary through the Angel Gabriel. Mary puts her trust in God and says “yes”. When has God called you to something greater than yourself, something perhaps out of your comfort zone? Did you put your trust in God? Did you say “yes”?

Tuesday, April 10
Jesus said to Nicodemus: “You must be born from above.” The Easter season is a time of new life. We see new life outside in the budding of the flowers. Nature shares its beauty with us. What is the new life we desire for ourselves? What beauty in you can you share with someone today?

Wednesday, April 11
Today we hear the reassuring words from John, “God so loved the world that he gave his only-begotten Son, so that everyone who believes in him might not perish but might have eternal life.” God will never abandon us. He is with us and loves us always. In times of despair or darkness we need to keep our faith and believe that are meant to live in the light of Christ. How will you share your light and your hope with someone today?

Thursday, April 12
Jesus speaks to us about earthly things. When we speak to one another do we realize the power of our words? Speak kindly to one another.

Friday, April 13
Children love the Gospel story of the Miracle of the loaves and fishes. Just as the young boy willingly shared a small gift of 5 loaves and 2 fish, are we willing to share our gift to help others? Reach out to someone in need today.

Saturday, April 14
Jesus calmed the storm at sea. During difficult times in our lives do we turn to Jesus to calm our storms? Put your trust in Jesus.
Dear Parishioners,

Today we complete the eight day Easter Octave as we celebrate the Second Sunday of Easter. Now we process through the several weeks of the Easter Season leading to the Solemnity of the Ascension of the Lord on Thursday, May 10 and the conclusion of the Easter Season on Pentecost Sunday, May 20. Now that we have celebrated the beautiful liturgies of Holy Week and Easter, we still await some beautiful spring weather. Understandably, some of us are getting a little impatient with the delay of spring. Soon, I hope.

Again, I am so grateful for the liturgies we experienced of Holy Week and Easter. From Palm Sunday and Mercy Monday with 350-400 confessions until the final Mass on Easter Sunday, prayerful and reverent liturgies marked these holy days. With altar servers, liturgical ministers, ushers, choirs, those preparing the church, sacristans, and maintenance staff, priests, deacons, parish and rectory staff, and additional volunteers, nearly 300 people combined their efforts so that nearly 9,000 people came to St. Anne’s for these many liturgies and times of prayer.

Personally, I am so very grateful to all who volunteer and to all who come here during this special time. The liturgies are reverent, the music is wonderful, the spirit is uplifting and the faith of those who come is very encouraging. This is my seventh Easter Season at St. Anne’s and I am very aware of the blessing it is to be a priest here. Thank you.

I love the readings for the Second Sunday of Easter. They are powerful, affirming, and challenging. In the gospel, I find one of the most powerful images of the gospel. From John’s gospel we read of the Risen Lord: “The disciples rejoiced when they saw the Lord. Jesus said to them again, ‘Peace be with you. As the Father has sent me, so I send you.’ And when he said this, he breathed on them and said to them, ‘Receive the Holy Spirit. Whose sins you forgive are forgiven them, and whose sins you retain are retained.’”

The readings also affirm us in our faith. The Acts of the Apostles remind us that we are part of a great history of persons who seek to live a life of faith in response to the Resurrection and the presence of the Risen Lord. We are never alone. We are part of something large, great, and historic.

Still, we cannot look beyond the challenges these readings provide. As Christians, we are called to unity. “The community of believers was of one heart and mind, ...” begins today’s first reading. We continue to be responsible for that sense of unity. We may not always agree; at the same time, honest disagreement does not exempt any one of us from the call to community. This seems to be a particular challenge in our time where unity seems so fractured in so many quarters. Later in the Easter Season, we will hear the prayer of Jesus to the Father for all of us, “That they all may be one. The sacred scriptures of the New Testament call us to be responsible both for the experience of unity and lack of it. Perhaps we will have the opportunity to explore this theme as we progress through the Easter Season.

Another challenge of these readings today is the reminder that we are a church of mission. This is made clear in the gospel stories all through Easter week. The resurrected Jesus often tells those to whom he appears, “Go and tell the others...” We are a mission church. We are sent to share faith with others. Our bishop John Barres consistently preaches “dramatic missionary growth.” Pope Francis implores us to be a mission church, “going to the edges.” He uses the phrase “missionary disciples.”

What I find so dramatic in this gospel is that after Jesus says to the apostles, “I send you,” he then “breathed on them and said to them, ‘Receive the Holy Spirit.’” Jesus shares his very life breath with those whom he first sent on mission. That same life breath is shared with us through the Holy Spirit.

And so my friends, the call to us as St. Anne’s Parish is during this Easter Season to reflect on our own call to mission. The call to mission is not only to us as individuals but to us as a community, as a parish community. We go about our mission in so many different ways. We call these various ways our parish ministries of which there are dozens. Some involve hundreds of people like our faith formation, CYO, and parish schools. Others involve just a few people like our Men’s Bible Study and Resilience group. All these ministries contribute to the parish mission. The Easter Season gives us, in particular parish leadership, time to reflect prayerfully on the mission to which we are called most urgently at this time in the life of the Church.

The Easter Season is a time of joy. Parishes like us focus our efforts on the celebration of sacraments during these weeks. Over this time we will celebrate 20 Baptisms, 9 weddings, more than 200 Confirmations and about 160 First Holy Communions. These will be very happy and joyous days for many parish families. Two Confirmation Masses will be celebrated by Bishop Robert Coyle on Tuesday, April 24. First Holy Communions will be celebrated on the first three Saturdays of May. These days are among the happiest ones in parish life.

Today is also known as the Sunday of Divine Mercy, a feast promulgated by Saint John Paul II. Part of our observance of this feast is a holy hour with exposition of the Blessed Sacrament at four o’clock this Sunday afternoon. This opportunity for prayer is a wonderful time to bring before the Lord your intentions for your family, your friends and our parish. Please feel invited to this time of prayer.

Have a blessed and peace-filled Easter Season!

Fa. Tom

Second Sunday of Easter

In today’s gospel we contrast “seeing is believing” with “Blessed are those who have not seen and have believed.” The apostle Thomas was not present on Easter Sunday evening when Jesus first appeared to his disciples. His reluctance to believe is remembered in his words “Unless I see the mark of the nails in his hands and put my finger into the nail marks and into his side, I will not believe.” He wanted proof. On the following Sunday when Jesus appears he allows Thomas to do just that! How often are we just like Thomas, wanting to see the evidence! Let us pray for the gift of belief that in spite of death God has transformed death to life, peace and wholeness.
